The National Autistic Society has been working with Newnorth Print for eight years and they are now our main supplier of print.

As well as reports (including our Trustees' report and annual accounts), booklets, leaflets, posters and other materials, they print our quarterly membership magazine, Communication, and handle the fulfilment.

Their print is of high quality and they take the environment seriously (print is produced to ISO14001 standards) – an increasingly important consideration for the not-for-profit sector.

Their customer service is excellent – the account manager is professional, responsive and sensitive to clients' needs, and response times are good.

I have no hesitation in recommending them to you.
